Envoy Urged To Run for Dirkson Seat

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (UPI) — Adlai Stevenson, died today, he is considering a race for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, D-Minn., the Republicans' Senate leader.

Emerging from a White House meeting with President Kennedy, the U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations told newsmen Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago had asked him to make the race his top priority.

The two former Illinois governors and two former Illinois presidential nominees said he will make his nomination known before the end of the year.

Stevenson acknowledged he discussed the matter with the President and indicated Kennedy had advised him what he should do. Stevenson said he did not think he should say what the chief executive told him.

Stevenson, who is 61, was governor of Illinois from 1949 to 1953 and unsuccessfully opposed Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidency in 1952 and 1956. He was appointed U.S. ambassador early this year.

Dirksen, 65, has announced his candidacy for a third term in the 1958 elections. He was elected to the Senate in 1946, re-elected in 1950 and re-elected in 1952. He served six years in the house before retiring temporarily in 1939 because of trouble with his eyesight.

Interstate

The suit was brought over the proposed route of the Interstate highway between the two states. It was filed in U.S. District Court at Twin Falls, seven miles north of Twin Falls, and continuing southeast to a point near state route 50, which would provide direct highway access to Twin Falls. The route then continues east to a point two miles south of Eden.

The plan provides for additional roads serving Eden and Hazelton.

The present highway, state route 25, would be retained.

The plan was adopted by the highway board after hearings in Twin Falls, and in Shoshoni, Kimberly, Murtaugh, Jerome and Burley.

The villages of Eden and Hazelton appealed the board's final decision.

The villages contended that the board did not follow the procedure required by law and did not take into consideration the effect of the proposed highway on traffic on this area and on the state as a whole.

An alternate route to the north of Twin Falls has been proposed by the highway board. It would be of greater benefit to the state and would cause less economic loss to the villages.

The highway board round robin decision was rejected by District Judge Gilbert Norris of Idaho, who ordered the board to conduct new hearings.

Judge Urges Better Home For Retarded

POCATELLO, Dec. 3 (UPI) — An eastern Idaho probate judge says better facilities are needed in the Gem State for retarded adults.

"We've put them in holes in the ground and in the basements of schools when what we really need to give them is a home," said Winston Benson.

The judge also called for areas with more homes, each supported by several counties, to get juvenile out-of-home regular jails.

Benson testified at a hearing conducted here by the newly-created Idaho children's commission.

State Rep. W. D. Eberle, Ada, Boise, and Canyon county commissioners chairman, said John Downey of Boise, a consultant to the group, has been ordered to meet soon with "interested parties" in the state to discuss the matter.

Downey is to gather information to be presented to the commission on possible changes in the present practice of detaining and punishing juveniles in county jails.

The commission will meet next Thursday in Boise with Mrs. Jay H. Gubert, director of special education in the state department of education, and with Vincent DeBruyn, Denver, of the children's division of the American Bar Association.

The next day the commission will meet with Edgar Brewer, western field director for the National Council on Crime Prevention, who will report on a study of probation.

Enos Returns To Old Work For Checkup

CAMP CANAVERAL, Fla., Dec. 2 (UPI) — Astronaut Enos is back at a familiar job today — preparing levers in response to flashes of light to indicate symbols used to let him know if orbital flight might be dangerous for man.

Doctors want to know if he performs his tasks well enough to fly again and during the orbital flight he made Wednesday.

The results will help determine if the United States will go ahead to orbit a man this year — and there is every indication officials are pushing to accomplish this before Christmas, probably during Christmas week.

On the basis of Enos' excellent performance during the three-hour orbital flight, he could be sent to a weightless state — doctors and a court could have survived a similar ride.

The important thing now is whether there will be any unpleasant aftereffects. So Enos will be given thorough physical and mental checkups and the health of the heart, lungs and livers monitored closely for some time.

Enos' space capsule also is undergoing careful study. Technicians are taking a close look at the vehicle's cooling and control systems, which malfunctioned during the flight, forcing him to be brought back to Earth after two orbits instead of the intended three.

Officials said a man passenger could have corrected both difficulties and the flight continued satisfactorily.

Court Overrules Benson Attempt

BOISE, Dec. 3 (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Frank L. Benson, who sought to have the state insurance fund acted contrary to Idaho law in paying its attorneys on a fee basis, was denied.

The Idaho supreme court upheld the fund's method of paying the fees — by eight drafts on a rotary fund in the state treasury.

The attorney general contend- ed they should have been covered by warrants issued by the state auditor's office and charged against the legislative appropriation.

The high court upheld a decision by Judge J. Earl Dickey, who rejected Benson's contention that the fund acted contrary to Idaho law in paying attorneys on a fee basis, rather than by monthly salary.

U.S. Communist Gets 3 Tickets

YONKERS, N. Y., Dec. 2 (UPI) — Communist leader Chiu Hall, already in trouble with the federal government, got into hot water with local officials.

He was halted by police Friday and charged with three major vehicle violations — driving across a one-way street, failing to stop at a New York driving license and driving with improper registration.

Hall, a Yonkers resident, was arrested by police Saturday. The 1952 "fawn-colored" convert he had been driving was impounded.

As general secretary of the communist party in the United States, Hall had been ordered by the Justice department to register as another communist leader by Wednesday, an agent of the Soviet Union. They refused.

Council Says Fitness Test Results Poor

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—The results of a fitness test in the public schools have shown appalling results, the President's Council on Youth Fitness reported today.

About 1,000 students taking part in pilot programs failed the minimum test for fitness, the council said. Only one-half of the percent passed a more strenuous, comprehensive test.

However, the report added, it has been found that marked improvement can be obtained by following a simple program that includes at least 15 minutes of vigorous activity every day for all pupils.

The pilot programs are being conducted by local school authorities in Atlanta, Milwaukee, Midway City, Okla., Indianapolis, N.D., Springfield, Mo., Savannah, Ga., 33 school districts in Pennsylvania, and in 113 elementary schools in eight countries.

The "minimum" test included three exercises: sit-ups, leg extensions, flexibility and abdominal strength, and squat thrusts to measure agility.

In all, 1,000 pupils took the minimum test at the start of the school year and 47 per cent failed. In Midway City, 52.29 per cent failed; in Atlanta, 53 per cent failed.

"Even at an Indian reservation school in Indianola, N.D., the council said, only 10 per cent of the 400 students tested failed the minimum test."

The council said that after six weeks of following a minimum 15-day program, there was a 24 per cent improvement in the test scores at Milwaukee and a 20 per cent improvement at Midway City.

The comprehensive test includes pull-ups, sit-ups, shuttle run, sit-ups, broad jump, dash, dash, and 600-yard run-and-walk."

Man Says Fallout Shelters Foolish, Survival Unsure

Editor's Note: We are advised to build fall-out shelters to guard against electromagnetic waves from atomic bombs. The local design and plans have been approved and tested. Approved, perhaps, but certainly not tested.

There is no defense and any kind of shelter is just a waste of time and effort and money.

But if you survive, will you be safe enough to live? Will your shelter be safe from the fallout?

The very ground and water and air around you will be contaminated and dead.

The fallout shelter will not harm you, but it will not help you either.

It will just be as safe above ground.

Of course, sand filters will contribute to the air quality of the shelter, but they will not be able to remove all the radioactive dust.

Even though the filters will remove most of the dust, you will still have to breathe deadly contaminated air if you stay in the fallout shelter for any length of time.

It is better to live outside the shelter in order to maintain a positive pressure within the shelter and power within the shelter. And if you do not have what you need, then you will not be safe.

So what is the best way to survive? I am not sure, but I am not trying to be a critic, even though it may seem like it.

While reading the Forum of Nov. 28, I was struck by the fact that the author did not mention what he would like to mention.

First, in the road block mentioned, I wonder if the police were on duty. If it was their duty, then they should have done their job well.

Second, in my small way I can see no connection between a pending seat belt law and our freedom to worship.

Third, I wonder if we have ever had a law that is not for the convenience of Americans, but for the convenience of others.

Fourth, I wonder if we ever have had a law that if for America, it is not for the outback or other areas of Twin Falls. This is not the first time it has happened.

It has happened many times.

It is not a short and of course, a payroll. Where else is there to turn to feed the people?

Too Many Hearing Aids On The Market

Today are merely amplifiers. They increase the volume but do nothing for the discrimination factor which is so important to natural hearing. We at Maico believe that restoration of good hearing is more important than the sale. Most hearing losses are progressive, they don't get better, only worse and only a selected, prescription-fitted aid can, and will utilize the natural hearing which remains. Each day of delay is another notch down the ladder.

BEWARE OF THE "SUITCASE SALESMAN"

BUT FROM A FIRM THAT WILL BE HERE FOR SERVICE TOMORROW! In order to meet a limited demand and as competition "suitcase salesman", we have repossessed and repaired aids of various types and makes. PRICED FROM $23.00. Service and repair on all makes and models.

"Banker's Hours" Is Good Joke, But It's Not Funny for Bankers

"Would I like to have [time] to 2 p.m.), but there are employees who argue the point: they just go along with the gag." This is a banker's utterance, meaning — they seem to be in reference to arriving at the bank early, actually the job is done. After work just paper tubes of silver coins.

Most persons realize bank branches of crisp, paper money.

But it's not so, but must bank the same number of hours.

Actually, bank employees work 8 a.m., although the doors don't open for the public for two more hours. This is because the workers finish the work that is left from the day before and start the new work.

Bankers prefer their banking practice, but they do follow a general pattern of getting the work accomplished.

One of the first jobs the tellers do is to count and count the cash they will use in their cages. After this, their jobs sometimes are divided.

Some of them will handle the night depository. This can be a big job; on Mondays, the big days, the deposit bags sometimes will number nearly 100. The bags are sorted, counted and the record double-checked. This can take several tellers one to two hours.

Another job is to file the checks the day before. A large bank operation will have to file six or seven thousand checks. Each teller is responsible for preparing the morning deposit slip, if there is a certain group of depositors, more work done during the early morning and late afternoon hours.

So, when the doors open and the crowds of customers pour through the door, the tellers already have accomplished half of the morning work.

And this is true of the bookkeepers. During the early morning they sort, place in alphabetical order, the checks of the various depositors of the previous day. They start the posting operations and work at other miscellaneous jobs.

All the work is completed on Monday evenings, so the bank employees pay dearly for a holiday, for the work piles up and must be put out of the way in time for the opening of the town of Twin Falls will handle about 16,000 items a day — plenty enough for one day's work — this is doubled after a holiday.

While the tellers are busy with their money and the bookkeepers with their long sums and etc.

Discussion of Unusual Cases Is Valuable for Group of Doctors

104 babies who have been for a departmental meeting and done at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital the decision by the physical staff that be adopted.

They review the complicated cases, with the object of arriving at why the case was complicated and what treatment if any is indicated.

One of the major purposes of the meeting is to provide a session that can result in self-improvement for the doctors and patients to better understand each other.

The executive committee of the department consists of Dr. Fen H. Covington, chairman; Dr. Ivan L. Watson, Jr.; Dr. Arthur C. Watson, Dr. Charles D. Collins, and Dr. Douglas Schow. Other members of the department are Dr. Harold E. Marshall, Dr. L. Edward Reeves, Dr. Charles C. Watson, Jr. and Dr. Charles W. Cullings.

During each program one or two of the doctors usually will present an informal paper on a case that has been done by him. Dr. Charles D. Collins, Dr. Arthur C. Watson, Jr. and Dr. Charles W. Cullings.

Not only do the doctors care for the babies and their mothers, but they also spend considerable time each month reviewing the work they have done.

Cub Scout Rhythm Band Produces Novel and Noisy Brand of Music

At least one Twin Falls mother has found a way to deal with adolescent energy. Her method is unique.

Her method? She formed a band and let them play guitars and drums in a hall that squeaks when popcorn cans that rattle. The musical result would be questionable, but praised by Mrs. Edward's Catholic church.

There are two kazoo and a harmonica, a strange instrument which sounds like the nose. "This is a highly personal instrument," Mrs. Bever says, "one that you wouldn't find in a rhythm band when she was

U.S. Vulnerable To Sneak Attack

By REN PRICE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 '61
Twenty years after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the United States is still haunted by the question:

Could it happen again? The answer is yes.

There are ways to prevent a surprise attack, but there is still a real chance of another. Yet President Kennedy has said this country will never initiate war. President Dwight D. Eisenhower said the same thing before him. So others have.

Thus, on the fact of it, the United States is already condemned the first blow to the enemy if world war comes again.

If the United States is attacked, the target probably will not be the capital, which is 100 miles from the mainland. It will be the United States.

And the attack will not come from carriers, but from aircraft bearing along at speeds ranging from 160 to 300 miles per hour. It will come at speeds ranging from 160 to 300 miles per hour.

The Dec. 7, 1941, attack on Pearl Harbor occupied 115 minutes. A well-executed nuclear attack could be over in 10 minutes. The United States would not have much time — probably less than 10 minutes — to react.

The Pearl Harbor attack left 2,403 dead.

There is no way of course to estimate the number of dead, but the defense of this country rests currently on what is known as the "counterforce" theory.

Pentagon officials have said that the United States would be annihilated by the strategic air command's bombers by land-based missiles and missile-packed aircraft.

The object would be to make the first blow crushing.

Assume the United States has been warned of the incoming missiles and has

Yule Fete of Palsy Group Is Scheduled

Plans to hold a Christmas party, and a dance on a special date, the next Sunday, at the school, were discussed at the regular business meeting of the Cerebral Palsy Club, held in the school cafeteria.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold the annual Christmas party for the children of the school, Mrs. Marie Sharp, West End, will be chairman. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore will serve as chairman. A date for the event will be announced.

During the business session, a new committee was formed from two officers on construction of a special wing for cerebral palsy students in the new junior high school building. Special plans for the construction of the new wing were forced out with the school teachers.

Mr. C. L. Ratcliffe, a teacher at the school, introduced Julie Roberts who proposed the idea of using hand methods in teaching handicapped children to participate in school activities. Miss Roberts has had experience in teaching the things she learned while working as a counselor at the new Cerebral Palsy summer camp in Idaho Falls.

Miss Ratcliffe announced a change in the program for crippled children's clinics in the fall. She said the clinics will be frequent clinics conducted by local doctors, instead of a semi-annual clinic as held in the past.

Cruelty Charged In Divorce Case

Mrs. Arla Mae Moore filed for divorce from Harry R. Moore Friday in Twin Falls County Court, charging extreme mental cruelty. They were married Jan. 5, 1953, in Twin Falls and have no children. Complaints of extreme mental cruelty include a 1956 injury to the Peugeot household and kitchen furniture and appliances.

Moore is to be awarded the Buick and house funds and that Moore be awarded the Peugeot. She also will be ordered to pay $10 per month alimony and the attorney's fees.

Mrs. Moore is represented by Rayborn, Rayborn, Rayborn and Webb, Twin Falls attorney.

Although bank employees work their books, and occasionally, a 40-hour week, many of them will work until 6:30 or 7 a.m. or responsible for balancing p.m. in order to finish.

SPINNING WHEEL that has been in his family for four generations is inspected by Alf Jøs Buhl. The wheel originally belonged to his grandmother in Norway. It is built about the year 1750.

Antique Spinning Wheel Is Survivor Of Germany's Occupation of Norway

BURL, Dec. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Alf Jøs Buhl, who have owned the most valuable spinning wheel in the country and it probably is the oldest.

When they returned from Norway a few months ago they brought back an antique spinning wheel that had been in the family since 1750. Their son, Alf Jøs Buhl, a student at the University of Idaho, says he often has thought of the spinning wheel since he has lived in the United States. He found it in the basement of his home in Burl when he was 10 years old.

But Jøs says he had no idea the spinning wheel would still be in the family home after the German occupation. Their home was a farm home that was one of the large German farms.

Immediately after the occupation the Germans took over the home in that area and used it as quarters for officers and Ja says one of the first things they did was throw out all the furniture.

The spinning wheel was taken to the attic of the house. Then the attic was filled with sand, and a search party, including Ja, was sent to find the spinning wheel.

He questioned his mother about the spinning wheel and she told him it had been destroyed by the Germans. But when he went to the attic to check for himself, the wheel appeared bare, but he could see every corner and finally found it in a small corner, shoved back

The spinning wheel was completely dismantled. He didn't know what to do with it.

tried to assemble it there, but waited until he got it back to Burl.

The antique probably was made sometime in the middle of the 18th century. It is completely hand-made, of various kinds of woods. The termites have had their turn at some parts, but it didn't destroy enough to ruin it.

In deciding to attack, the enemy has had another advantage. He launches his attack, he can in a matter of hours, easily his forces to disperse his people.

Will the United States strike at major targets—airfields with no air force remaining? Or will it strike at smaller, more mobile targets?

Or will the United States attack cities just to kill people?

In deciding to attack, the enemy has had another advantage. He launches his attack, he can in a matter of hours, easily his forces to disperse his people.

Will the United States strike at major targets—airfields with no air force remaining? Or will it strike at smaller, more mobile targets?

Or will the United States attack cities just to kill people?

The striking force is identical in size, in the theory of war, the pre-emptive strike is superior.

This line of reasoning has been behind the agitation to pre-emptive strikes, to develop the power and the drive to Craig and anti-missile missile.

Some military men argue that the enemy will be deterred by the prospective destruction of the cities, planes and people. They also argue that once the enemy has struck, once he expends his striking force, the mere existence of the U.S. counterforce is paralyzing.

There has never been a full-scale debate in full public view of the U.S. public. The stated position is an isolated one.

Obviously the Pentagon has concluded that creation of weapons systems is more to be desired at this time than purely defensive measures.

An extension of this theory is that if one side gains a marked superiority in weapons systems over the other, the weaker side will — and, costly — shelter program.

Presumably, the decision was reached on the basis of precise knowledge of U.S. military resources, assumptions about the enemy's resources and what men might do under certain circumstances.

If backed into a corner by the overwhelming power of an invader, a reasonable man is faced with a choice: retreat or attack. Either course could be reasonably considered.

But to face the enemy, though in no present danger, is convinced that he may be backed into a corner if the armed might of the United States continues to grow? Would this tempt him to attack immediately?

The United States appears to have considered this projection of the enemy's desire to remove the enemy's fears.

Since the Russians hold that their armaments also are defensive, a considerable amount of effort is to be called for on both sides.

But is it? Who trusts whom?

The measure of distrust is the fervor of peace of the arms race.

Christmas Preparations

By LLOYD OLIVER
Pastor, United Brethren in Christ Church

We are coming into one of the most important seasons of the year in our United States of KAZOO EXPERTS practice for newly-formed Cub Scout rhythm band which makes use of far less sophisticated instruments. The kazoo, one of the more elaborate instruments in the band, are played by Michael Frith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frith, and Timothy Bever, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bever. Other instruments used in the band include such off-beat items as balloons and popcorn cans. Instruments are limited only by ingenuity. (Staff photo-engraving) with various effects of color, form and vibration when struck with sticks. A belt of bells is another instrument. Mrs. Bever says, "It's good to add jingles to Christmas."

The band now has two pieces in its repertoire—"When I'm the Santa Come Marchin'" and "I'm a Little Teapot." There is also a particular song—"Those are the only two songs our pianist knows," Mrs. Bever says.

Popcorn cans make good sounding instruments, according to Mrs. Bever, who says, "The balloon sound came about by accident. One of her boys was blowing up a balloon one day and accidentally let some air escape. A new sound was created. But balloons are creating a problem, she says. "Now we're trying to find a balloon big enough to get us through the rest of the year."

The instrument is vibraphon, an instrument borrowed from the college crowd. It consists of an inverted washbasin covered with metal plates.

The sticks are placed on the rim of the tub, with the string extending from the top of the stick to the bottom of the rim of the tub. When the string is plucked and the tension varied, sounds similar to a banjo are made.

Mrs. Bever notes that what money was needed for the instruments the boys made by doing odd jobs about the home and working for the community. They will be given on the state convention weekly for a practice session. Their first public performance was Wednesday night at St. Edward's church, where they performed at a meeting of parents and Cub Scouts at the pack meeting.

Mrs. Bever laughs and says, "I think the public appearance they will play their entire repertoire."

BUREAU TO MEET

Mr. Radcliffe will speak on what

The price is about twice as much
